* The donation of one piece of artwork will be used as a prize to a participant or participants on the tour. We will discuss at our planning meeting ways to increase tour participation and sales. One idea is to give tour participants a ticket from each studio they visit (but don't purchase) for a drawing of prizes donated by local businesses. I have one donation already from the Strater Hotel in Durango. Tour participants would get some other object (such as a card or other type of ticket) if they purchase an item from a studio. We'll have a drawing or in the case of using the cards, the highest hand wins. It is these participants who would get the prize package(s) of artists' artwork. The whole idea here is to encourage people to purchase your artwork and increase sales for the 2010 tour.
